ABOUT US

Joerees Farms and consult is your trusted source for premium quality poultry products in Ghana.

Founded in 2010, Joerees Farms was born out of a deep passion for sustainable farming and a desire to set a standard in poultry production.

What started as a small backyard operation with just 50 birds has grown into a fully certified poultry farm serving homes, restaurants, and market vendors across the country.

At Joerees farms, we believe that quality starts from the ground up. Our birds are raised in a clean, bio-secure environment with strict hygiene protocols and a high-nutrition feeding system. We never compromise on quality—our operations meet the standards of the Ghana Veterinary Services Directorate (GVSD), and we're proud holders of the Food and Drugs Authority (FDA) poultry handling certification.

In addition to supplying dressed chicken, live birds, and fresh eggs, we also offer consultation services for individuals and agribusinesses looking to start or scale their own poultry ventures. Whether you're just getting started or need help optimizing your setup, our team is here to guide you.

We're not just a farm—we're a team of passionate professionals committed to poultry excellence, food safety, and customer satisfaction. When you choose Joesees farms and consult, you're choosing quality you can trust.
